BUT GAYNOR HAS A CHANCE.

The Nomination May Be Offered to the Judge in Spite of His Declination.

BOOMS GROW AND COLLAPSE HOURLY.

David B. Hill Reiterates His Announce- ment that He Is Not a Candidate.

THE RECORD TO DATE.
DAVID B. HILL—I am not a candidate.
WM. C. WHITNEY—I will not accept the nomination under any circumstances.
WM. J. GAYNOR—After the disposition betrayed towards me by some of the delegates I cannot accept.
FREDERICK COOK—I have not said I would accept a nomination for Governor.
I am not a candidate.
COL. ALEXANDER S. BACON—I'm willing.
JOHN BOYD THACHER—Hasn't declined yet.
HAROLD LOCKWOOD—Boom collapsed.
HOWELL P. FLOWER—Declined a week ago.

William C. Whitney is home from Europe, and he positively declines to become the nominee of his party for Governor this Fall.

The White Star steamship Majestic, with Mr. Whitney on board, was sighted off Fire Island at 3 o'clock this morning, and two hours later dropped anchor off Quarantine.

J. Sergeant Cram, who came down from Saratoga last night with a commission to ascertain for certain Tammany leaders if Mr. Whitney would accept the nomination, boarded the Majestic at Quarantine. Mr. Cram was accompanied by Hans S. Beattie, and the two were shown at once to Mr. Whitney's quarters.

They were in conference some time, and the result must have been very decided, for Mr. Cram went to the gentlemen who sent Mr. Cram upon his delicate mission. Just what Mr. Whitney told Messrs. Cram and Beattie could not be learned, but there was no indecision in his announcement to the reporters who were waiting for him.

The others on hand to greet Mr. Whitney were John D. Crimmins, Grand Union Hotel, and Samuel Babcock, and R. McClay, President of the Knickerbocker Trust Company. Mr. Whitney had expected his sons, Harry and Willie, to meet him at Quarantine, but they missed the ship, and so waited for their father on the pier.

Mr. Whitney is apparently in the best of health, and says he has enjoyed himself immensely while abroad. He was accompanied by his daughter. After he had finished his breakfast Mr. Whitney adjourned to the smoking-room, and, seating himself in a corner, prepared to be interviewed by some twenty reporters.

"In the first place," he said, "I will not accept the nomination under any circumstances. I stated that very positively before I left in a cablegram to somebody or other; I don't remember whom."

"When I resigned my position as Secretary of the Navy under Mr. Cleveland, I said I would never fill or accept another public office, and I meant it. I think, if I had wanted anything, President Cleveland would have broken off here, but his tone implied that the Administration would have taken care of him if he had cared for an office."

"There are plenty of better men in the Democratic party, men who would be more acceptable and more successful than I," he continued.

"I regard David B. Hill as the very best man for the place. I think he would poll an enormous vote."

"Of course, I think the next Governor will be a Democrat. I am not well enough posted in regard to the news of the past few days to hazard a guess at the probable selection of the Democratic Convention. I hope to see a strong man nominated."

(Who respectfully declines.)

I do not think he would be a good choice for the Convention."

Continuing Mr. Whitney said he was going to his home first and then to the country, near Hempstead, L. I.

His daughter was sick on the other side for several weeks before sailing, and Mr. Whitney said he had been with her so much of the time he had lost track of the political situation in this country.

Miss Whitney is greatly improved now.

Secretary of War Daniel S. Lamont had an early breakfast this morning, and left the Victoria Hotel before 9 o'clock. To an "Evening World" reporter who met him he said:

"I do not expect to meet Mr. Whitney to-day, as I intend to leave town before noon."

When informed that Mr. Whitney had positively declined to become a candidate for Governor, and asked who he considered as the next available man, Secretary Lamont said:

"I must decline to discuss political subjects. My visit here has no political significance, and I will not be interviewed on politics."

"THE" MAN STILL IN DOUBT.

Whitney's Declination Brings Gaynor to the Fore Again.

(Special to The Evening World.)

SARATOGA, N. Y., Sept. 26.—Again the Democrats here are all at sea. The declination of Mr. Whitney was a great disappointment to the leaders. It was thought that Mr. Whitney's suggestion that Senator Hill himself be the candidate would furnish the solution of the problem.

JOHN BOYD THACHER
(Whose Brother Says He Will Get It.)

Senator Hill was seen by an "Evening World" reporter at the Grand Union Hotel. He was in consultation with Lieut.-Gov. Sheehan, Senator Muggby and W. Bourke Cockran.

"I am not in a position to say anything," said Senator Hill. "I cannot say who will be the candidate and have no comment to make on Mr. Whitney's refusal to run."

"Mr. Whitney places you in nomination."

"Does he? I am not a candidate."

Mayor Gilroy said: "It looks to me as if John Boyd Thacher would be nominated."

"It looks like Thacher to me, too," added Corporation Counsel Clark.

Lieut.-Gov. Sheehan said he didn't know who the nominee would be. He had no opinion to express.

Senator Murphy said: "I don't think Thacher has any chance. I haven't got the slightest idea who will be selected."

Senator Cantor said: "Senator Hill is the logical candidate."

Ex-Senator McClelland said: "Hill is our hope and the Convention will name him."

The Democrats are thus confronted by a remarkable situation. They can't find a suitable candidate. The leaders are as much in doubt as their followers. Everybody is asking everybody else:

"Who will it be now?"

Some think the party will have to fall back on Flower, and others believe the Convention will be stampeded for Hill. Senator Hill was informed that such a movement was contemplated, and he answered:

"The Convention will not be stampeded for anybody while I am in the chair." Curiosity is expressed as to Mr. Whitney's personal reasons for declining. It was reported recently that his bride is to be Miss Leiter, of Chicago. His probable marriage, it is thought here, may have something to do with his determination not to enter public life at this time.

As Senator Hill was leaving his room this morning, he was stopped by a gentleman who did not give his name, who requested a few moments' private conversation with the leader. The secret that the stranger had to impart was that John H. Inman, of New York, was his choice for Governor.

The drift is towards Gaynor again. Cook is out of the question for first place. If the wishes of the delegates are consulted the leaders will offer the nomination to Gaynor.

When John D. Crimmins was handed Ryan's message, announcing positively that Mr. Whitney would not accept the nomination, he frowned and declined to be interviewed. The news was a great disappointment to him.

CONTESTANTS THROWN OUT.

The Committee Will Report Against State Democrats and Shepherds.

(Special to The Evening World.)

SARATOGA, Sept. 26.—A member of the Committee on Credentials said at 11:30 o'clock this morning that the Committee would report to the Convention at 1 o'clock in favor of the regular or sitting delegations from New York and Kings County.

The committeeman said the contestants had not made out a case to entitle them to recognition.

Now, if Frederic R. Coudert's threat is carried out, there will be trouble. Mr. Coudert said last night if the people he represented before the Committee on Contested Seats, the State Democracy, were ignored, the success of the Democracy would be endangered.

WORKING ON THE PLATFORM.

The Committee Gives Audience to Female Suffragists and Labor Men.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Sept. 26.—The Committee on Platform met last evening and elected William F. Sheehan Chairman. A sub-committee, headed by D. G. Griffin, of Watertown, was appointed to draft a platform and present to a meeting of the full Committee this morning. The sub-committee met immediately after adjournment of the full Committee. Among those who appeared before it were Mrs. Greenleaf and Miss Susan B. Anthony, of Rochester. They asked for the insertion of a woman's suffrage plank in the platform.

A committee from the Tax Reform Association, composed of Thomas G. Shearman, Fred. H. Hinrichs, Robert Baker, Alfred B. Mason and Bolton Hall, appeared before the Committee and asked for the insertion of this plank.

Resolved, That we favor such taxation of franchises and monopolies as will lighten the burden on persons, firms and corporations.

Labor Unionists Seek Relief.

A committee from the State Working-men's Assembly and other labor bodies, headed by James H. Dulin, of Albany, presented the platform of the labor organizations of the State, relating that for years they have importuned the Legislature to repeal the laws known as the McKinley Tariff law. The Committee promised to give the matter attention, and later intended to put in the platform a plank favoring more equalization of the tariff.

THACHER'S BOOM BOOMING.

Brother George Says John Will Get It on the First Ballot.

(Special to The Evening World.)

SARATOGA, Sept. 26.—If George H. Thacher is correctly informed, his brother, John Boyd Thacher, will be nominated by the Democratic State Convention for Governor. He said this morning:

NATIONAL ISSUES.

Congratulates the Democratic Administration on the careful and conscientious manner in which the business of the country is being conducted by the appointment of efficient officers to the heads of public departments. Congratulates the party upon the repeal of the Sherman law, which was eating out the vitals of the financial body politic; upon the repeal of the tariff laws, which will lessen the expenditures of the nation by millions and promote pure elections. Congratulates the party that with Democratic ascendancy the country returns to simple methods and sound principles. Declares that the abolition of the McKinley Tariff law and the enactment of a new tariff measure are in accordance with the platform of the Democratic party in Chicago.

THE TARIFF.

Asserts that the new tariff law will be a wise and excellent substitute for the partisan McKinley bill, and as a whole will help the people of the country. Declares against future amendments of the tariff by revision as a whole, but contends that necessary alterations can be made by the passage of special laws relating to the removal of the duty from a few articles only.

BUSINESS INTERESTS.

Congratulates the country upon the revival of business interests, and believes that this revival will continue now that the tariff matter is definitely settled. Asserts that the financial and

AGAINST COGHLAN.

Referee Reports that Kahne Beveridge Deserves a Divorce.

Mrs. Coghlan No. 1 Was Named as the Co-respondent.

Judge McAdam Refuses to Keep the Proceedings Secret.

The report of Referee Edward Jacobs, in the suit of Kahne Beveridge Coghlan, for an absolute divorce from Charles Francis Coghlan, the actor, was filed with Judge McAdam, of the Superior Court, to-day.

The referee finds in favor of the plaintiff, and recommends that the decree of divorce be granted.

So far as the referee's report shows, Mr. Coghlan made no defense, although he was represented at the hearing by counsel.

When the report was submitted, Lawyer Eugene Van Schaick asked that it be sealed and kept from the public.

This Judge McAdam refused to do, and also stated that whenever in his power he would order papers sealed by other judges to be opened, as he did not approve of that course of proceedings in courts of justice.

The plaintiff testified that she was married to Mr. Coghlan on Oct. 25, 1892, at Indianapolis, by Justice Milton H. Daniels.

The witnesses were Ella Baroneson von Wrede, the plaintiff's mother, and Leon O. Brady.

The plaintiff charged that between March 19 and June 1, 1894, Mr. Coghlan had lived with a woman named Louisa Thorne, otherwise known as "Mrs. Coghlan No. 1," his wife.

Mary Cohen, of 17 West Twenty-first street, who testified that she was at Mr. Coghlan's home at 17 West Twenty-first street, when he was with the woman, said she was his wife, although they had separate apartments.

Mr. Coghlan, the witness said, always referred to the woman as his wife, and the latter spoke of Mr. Coghlan as her husband.

Carina Jaggs, the cashier at the Hotel Brunswick, testified to having called on Mr. Coghlan while he was at 17 West Twenty-first street. Mrs. Coghlan No. 1 was with him, and was introduced to her as Mrs. Coghlan's wife. Coghlan's residence in the referee's report is given as Canada.

ANTI-TILLMAN TICKET.

Nomination of One Decided Upon at a Caucus.

(By Associated Press.)

COLUMBIA, S. C., Sept. 26.—The anti-Tillman caucus at 2 A. M. decided by a vote of 121 to 90 to make nominations. The ticket has not yet been selected, but will be before adjournment.

BOLT IN NEBRASKA.

Said to Be Certain if Democrats Face with Populists.

(By Associated Press.)

OMAHA, Neb., Sept. 26.—At midnight Euclid Martin, chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, said that in the event of the Convention declaring for fusion with the Populists the administration delegates will bolt, organize a separate convention and put a straight ticket in the field.

As this is certain to be done, Martin arranged for renting a hall for the bolting convention. Excitement is intense.

CHOLERA IN GERMANY.

(By Associated Press.)

BERLIN, Sept. 26.—From Sept. 17 to Sept. 24, in East Prussia and the Vistula region, forty-seven new cases of cholera and nine deaths from that disease were reported.

In Upper Silesia, from Sept. 15 to Sept. 22, fifty-nine new cases were announced and there were seventeen deaths.

In the Rhine provinces only two cases of cholera were recorded and no deaths were reported.

Observer Dunn Warns All South-Bound Craft to Remain in Port.

THIS ORDER IS IMPERATIVE.

"It Would Be Flying in the Face of Providence to Sail, Even Now."

THE GALE IS FROM THE GULF.

It Is New Blowing from 30 to 70 Miles Per Hour south of Hatteras.

Local Forecast Officer Dunn has issued a bulletin, warning the public of the approach from the South of a violent storm.

He emphatically and imperatively warns all manner of craft not to leave this port until after the storm has passed.

He says it would be flying in the face of providence for any south-bound vessel to leave, even now.

The Clyde line has already heeded the warning and has sent word to Mr. Dunn that none of their Savannah and south country steamers will leave until after the storm.

It is stated that a terrific storm has ravaged the lower Florida coast and is marching northward. A cyclone of tremendous dimensions and great fury has come out of the Gulf, and is central to-day at Jacksonville, Fla. All wires are down south of the city, and no news of the destruction that quite probably occurred, can be obtained.

The cyclone is moving north along the Atlantic coast at the slow rate of about twenty miles an hour, but within its vortex, Mr. Dunn says, the wind is blowing from thirty to seventy miles an hour.

Storm signals are flying to-day along the coast from New York to Cape Hatteras. At this point Mr. Dunn says that he expects the wind to increase here during to-day and to-morrow, but that the full violence of the storm will not be felt until Friday or later. The week, at all events, will get out in a great hurry, according to prognostications, and when the storm strikes it will reign for two or three days.

Gales and hurricanes are now prevailing from Hatteras to the Gulf. When a storm reaches here it will probably be accompanied by rain.
